LawBase Announces NACPI Appearance

Synaptec Software, Inc. to attend the North American Consumer Protection Investigators Conference

July 25, 2011 –Denver-based Synaptec Software, Inc. announced today that representatives from the company will be attending the North American Consumer Protection Investigators (NACPI) conference. They will be showcasing their legal case and matter management software program LawBase.

The NACPI conference is being held in Kansas City, Kansas from July 31 to August 2.

LawBase is currently being used by the Office of the Kansas Attorney General, which is serving as the host committee for the conference, as well as four other Offices of the Attorney General in the United States and numerous other government agencies, including municipalities, probation departments, and various courts.

President Philip Homburger, who will be attending the conference, says, "LawBase is the most capable software solution for handling the complex needs of the consumer protection division."
