Seven Agencies in Washington Begin Using LawBase Case Management LawBase Welcomes New Clients

February 22, 2011 –Seven agencies in the State of Washington have implemented LawBase case and matter management software, Denver-based Synaptec Software, Inc. announced today. The cities of Edmonds, Kent, Lake Forest, Marysville, Puyallup, and Renton as well as Okanogan County have all begun using LawBase because of its intuitive design and will increase their efficiency and productivity through its use.

The City of Kent first began using LawBase in its prosecution department before expanding it to the probation department. Edmonds and the other cities followed suit in selecting LawBase for their probation departments based partially on the fact that LawBase has been such a success for Kent.

This is the first time in LawBase's 30-year history that several agencies have actively worked together to select a viable yet cost-effective program during an extensive budget crisis. "We're thrilled to be chosen as the best solution for the agencies based on our program's capabilities but we're also proud to be a part of a feasible financial solution," said Synaptec President Phil Homburger.

LawBase also provides case and matter management to a number of other government agencies including many State Attorneys General offices and several other state and local government agencies, each of whom has tailored the program to meet their individual requirements.
